COUNCIL MEETS IN PARIS TODAY

division in readiness in the Rhineland.

In Rhineland.

They were troops that were sent to the Rhineland, last spring, when it appeared that the French would occupy the Ruhr district.

It is understood that the United States prefers the Anglo-Italian solution of the Upper-Silesian question, in preference to that advocated by France. In this respect, it was significant that Ambassador Harvey was Premier Lloyd George's first visitor after the latter arrived from London. The two were closeted about thirty minutes.

Mr. Harvey refused to make any statement to the press and it is understood that he is following instructions from Washington to make no comment whatsoever unless advised to do so.

The Belgian premier will not arrive until tomorrow and it is understood that he will take no part in the Silesian discussions.

On account of the friction between Great Britain and France over the amount of Upper Silesian territory that shall be awarded to Poland and the amount that shall go to Germany, it was reported in some quarters that Ambassador Harvey may utilize his aloof position to act as mediator if the disputes threaten to become too lively.

Ambassador Harvey conferred with Premier Lloyd George during the morning. Later, the British premier received a communication from the Sinn Fein with a request for the release of John MacKeown, a member of Dail Eireann at Dublin, but had not replied to it at noon.

Deeply Chagrined.

The Sinn Feiners were deeply chagrined when the British made an exception of MacKeown because Eamon de Valera had been given assurances that his request for the release of all imprisoned members of Dail Eireann would be met by the British government. The Sinn Feiners renewed their demand for the release of MacKeown and the Irish office communicated with Lloyd George, who is in Paris. The premier intervened and ordered the temporary release of MacKeown to enable him to attend the meeting of the Sinn Fein parliament, August 15 and to take part in informal Sinn Fein discussions previous to that date.

Some of the government officials were displeased at the premier's action, but others held that his intervention has saved the peace negotiations and prevented a collapse of the truce.

According to advices from Dublin, the officials of Dublin castle have already begun to release the Sinn Fein parliamentarians.

Early in the day, Premier Lloyd George received a communication from Dublin giving rise to reports that the Sinn Fein was threatening to end the Irish truce. It was subsequently denied officially that the Sinn Fein had made any such threat. It was explained at Premier Lloyd George's headquarters that the Sinn Fein communication only stated that the "release of John MacKeown was a matter of greatest importance."

London, Aug. 8.—Threatened break off in the Irish peace negotiations and the renewal of warfare in Ireland, was averted today by Premier Lloyd George. The premier sent orders from Paris to release immediately John MacKeown of the Irish republican army and a member of the Dail Eireann. When the British announced they would release the imprisoned members of the Dail Eireann, MacKeown was the only exception. The British authorities maintained he should not be liberated because of the serious charge of murder that had been lodged against him.

SEA TRAGEDY

going nearer the rocks, our crew manned a lifeboat, picking up sixteen survivors from the floating wreckage, saturated with oil and completely exhausted. At daylight, we picked up four more. This was all that was in sight.

We then proceeded to Eureka, landing seventy members of the crew and ninety-six passengers at noon, yesterday.

Credit is due our crew for the handling of all survivors without mishap and the barge captain, Clark, for locating survivors. There were about twenty hospital cases.

"My husband and I were enjoying a walk on the upper deck when suddenly we were thrown to the board by the crash on the reef," said Mrs. Clifton Wright, of Upper Montclair, New Jersey.

"I was separated from my husband and thrust into one of the departing lifeboats. A wave struck it violently against the side of the Alaska and we capsized. I struck out for a deserted lifeboat and gained it. We drifted about in the ice and darkness until the crew of the Villard risked their lives to haul us to safety. When the Alaska sank I saw my husband for dead, as he was suffering from blood-poisoning in his arm and could not swim. I was heartbroken until on my way to shore I saw Clifton standing by the rail on the Ansox. What we lost is of no account, as long as we have each other."

Great Courage.

San Francisco, Aug. 8.—A tale of almost unbelievable courage was brought to San Francisco today, with the arrival of forty of the survivors of the ill-fated steamship, Alaska, from Eureka.

Passengers died with each other in relating heroic incidents of the terror-laden hours from 8:30 Saturday night, until early Sunday morning, when the last of the survivors were picked up by the Ansox.

Songs played a big part in cheering the human freight of the drifting lifeboats in a fog so dense that persons in one end of the boat had difficulty distinguishing persons in the other end.

"It's a long way to Tipperary," they sang in one boat, repeating the chorus time and again.

"The End of a Perfect Day," sung by a woman passenger in another boat, quieted the cries of a number of women and restored calmness of the men who were upset by the frantic shouts of the women.

And the work of rescue was not without its humorous side.

"It was really funny," laughed pretty, sixteen-year-old Margaret Nichol, of Berkeley. "The men on the Ansox gave all their spare clothing to the women brought aboard. We were parading about in overalls and dungarees. The sailors on the Ansox all gave up their warm coats for the rescued passengers."

"One of the last men to be rescued was entirely naked. All the clothing had been given out. The crew of the Ansox rose to the occasion, however. They found a worn-out pair of trousers to cover him and the cook donated a red apron to take the place of the missing seat of the trousers."

"There was a baby in our boat. She never even whimpered and managed to smile when the rest of us felt more like crying. We were all right, though, when we got to singing."

cholera deaths.

London, Aug. 8.—Cholera deaths in Russia to the end of July totaled 130,000, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen today, quoting reports received there from Riga.

Brigands are ravaging the valley district along the Volga valley. The brigands have burned all the timber and farmsteads on 25,000 acres of land in the Ural district.

home, Beverly Glen, twelve miles from Los Angeles and were about to enter the house when an assassin fired from ambush. Kennedy fell dead with two gunshot wounds in the head.

Attention was directed to Hurlburt when it was learned he had come to Los Angeles from Evanston ten days ago and rented a room in the Broadway hotel, opposite Kennedy's office. Hurlburt attacked said Hurlburt spent much of his time watching Kennedy's window. The night of the shooting it was learned he had left on a late train.

According to word from Las Vegas, Hurlburt denies knowledge of the murder. Hurlburt was a friend of Obenchain and Mrs. Obenchain before they were married in 1919. The three were students at Northwestern university. Mrs. Obenchain, as Madeline Conner, was known as the prettiest girl on the campus in 1915.

Hurlburt married Alice Quayle, daughter of Bishop Quayle, of the Methodist Episcopal church, in St. Paul five years ago. She is now suing for divorce.

It is expected that the work of fencing in the lot will be started tomorrow and before the close of the week the company expects to have a steam shovel on the ground for the work of excavating.

Present plans provide for the construction of a three-story building erected that up to six or seven stories can be added. TABLE OF COMPARATIVE
PRICES OF COMMODITIES

Compiled by Marion County
Farm Bureau Federation.

AND FORWARDED TO WASHINGTON TODAY

Shows Costs of Acid-Phosphate Fertilizer Before the War and at the Present Time.

A table of comparative prices of commodities used by farmers was compiled at the request of Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, at a meeting of a committee of the Marion County Farm Bureau Saturday evening in the farm bureau of Washington today.

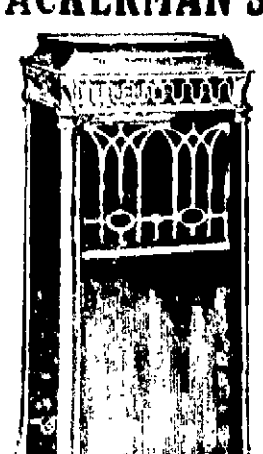

This table gives the price of acid-phosphate fertilizer in July, 1913, as $16 a ton, in July, 1920, $21 a ton, and in July this year, $21.50 a ton. Farmers already have pooled orders for large quantities of this fertilizer, but the purchase is being delayed because of an expressed dissatisfaction over the price, many of the farmers contending the price should be down to pre-war level.

Announcement was made this morning that the farm bureau office has received word from eastern fertilizer companies offering to put sixteen per cent. acid phosphate in Marion county for about $20 a ton.

A meeting of the purchasing committee of the farm bureau and representatives of fertilizer companies which have been doing business in Marion county is being held this afternoon in an effort to adjust the price of acid phosphate.

In the table of prices single work horses is quoted at $15 in July, 1913, $125 in July 1920, and $85 in July of this year; ordinary hares at $15 in July, 1913, $25 in July, 1920, and $25 in July this year; side delivery hayrakes at $50 in July, 1913, $100 in July, 1920, and $100 in July of this year; manure spreaders at $115 in July, 1913, $185 in July, 1920, and $175 in July of this year; mowers at $15 in July, 1913, $58 in July, 1920, and $85 in July of this year; ready-mixed paint at two dollars a gallon in July, 1913, $4.75 a gallon in July, 1920, and $3.25 a gallon in July of this year; turning plows at $10 in July, 1913, $30 in July, 1920, and $28 in July of this year; work shoes at $2.50 in July, 1913, $6.50 in July, 1920, and $1.50 in July of this year; wire fences forty-five cents.

VOTERS WILL RECEIVE TWO TICKETS TUESDAY

How Right for One or Other Is Determined.

STATEMENT MADE BY BOARD OF ELECTIONS

Light Registration Is Reported. About 500 Transfers and New Registrations.

The judges and clerks will only have two tickets to handle at the primary election tomorrow, one, the Republican ticket, will have all the names of the candidates that have been filed and the other ticket will have all of the Democratic candidates.

Voters on entering the voting places will give their names to the registrar judges and ask for either Republican or Democrat ticket.

"The right for one or the other of these tickets is determined by the way you voted last fall; if you voted for a majority of the Republican candidates last fall that is the ticket you must vote tomorrow and if you voted for a majority of the Democrat candidates last fall that is the ticket you must vote this time," says a statement issued by the board of elections. "You must put a cross before the names of every candidate you wish to vote for. You will not be able to vote what is known as a straight ticket as there are no circles at the head of the tickets this time, and the only way you can have your vote counted is to put a cross in front of the name of the candidate which is your preference.

"The presiding judges will call at the office of the board of elections this evening between the hours of 7 and 8 to receive the ballots and other election supplies."

The polls will be open as usual tomorrow between the hours of 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Saturday was the only day for registering and transferring in the city, and all those who were not registered before the last election or moved from one precinct to another were obliged to register or secure certificates of transfer to be qualified to vote at the primary election.

The new registrations and transfers were light, according to the clerk of the board of elections, there being about 500 of both, while it is estimated that there were more than this number of removals.

Two More Victories.
The East End Yellow Jackets added two victories to their list over the week end by defeating the Silk Mill second team, Saturday afternoon, by a score of twelve to three. This game was called at the end of the sixth inning on account of rain. Sunday they defeated the Agosta team at Garfield Park by a score of sixteen to one. Stump, a southpaw, pitched both games for the Yellow Jackets and was given good support. Next Sunday the team will go to Dealware to play the Buckeyes of that place.

TOO EARLY TO PRESENT CAR OWNERSHIP BLANKS

A General Misunderstanding of the Atwood Law.

A general misunderstanding of the requirements of the Atwood bill, which provides for the registration of used cars, is causing the county clerk's office no end of trouble, says Sunday's Ohio State Journal.

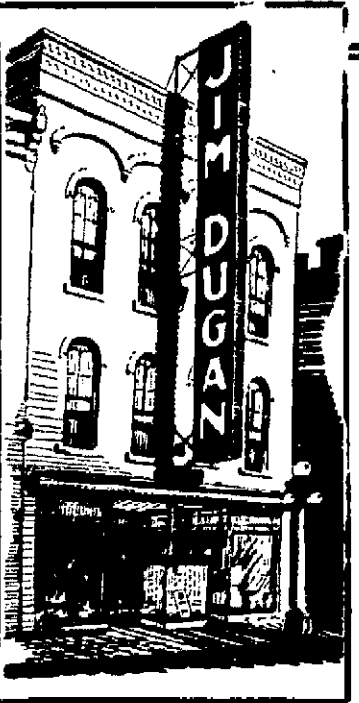

The law does not become effective until August 17 and, according to a ruling of the attorney general, any person purchasing a used car prior to that time is not required to file an affidavit of ownership, although such procedure is strongly urged by county officials as a protection to the owners of cars.

However, the county clerk's office is not yet equipped to receive the affidavits of ownership, bills of sale, etc., and will not be until the law becomes effective, according to County Clerk Harold Gockenback.

KIRKPATRICK TO HAVE CHAUTAUQUA NEXT YEAR

Last Week's Chautauqua Is a Big Success.

Kirkpatrick, O., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—The Kirkpatrick Community Chautauqua festival was held on the Centralized school town last week, extending from Monday until Wednesday evening. The program was composed of some very good talent. It opened Monday with the Allpress

All-Star company which gave a musical program and a C. C. Evering, who gave a lecture on "The National Cornerstone." Tuesday afternoon John Kilham gave "Indian Trails and Trails" impersonating many famous warriors and chiefs. A dramatic production "Her husband's Wife," was given that evening. Wednesday the program was given by the Hawaiian Singers and Players, and Dr. Thomas W. Davidson. Mr. Davidson spoke on "The Pathway of Power." The Chautauqua next year will be given at the same place. A picture of the crowd was taken Wednesday. This will be put in the yearbook on community work and will be shown in pictures over Ohio this winter, as Kirkpatrick led in the largest crowd of any community of its size.

It Folks Would Save As Energetically As They Earn

There would be a myriad more saving accounts and proportionately more happiness.

Too many think that happiness springs from spending money, because they do not know the more substantial joy that has its fountain-head in saving.

A man will work from Monday to Saturday, with sincere energy, to earn a wage or salary, and will spend it with light-hearted indiscretion, frequently before the money is earned.

The man who spends all his money always has his day of regret. Right now, with work so scarce, there are hundreds who could have had savings accounts and be free from want and worry.

They thought good times would last forever. The lesson of experience was forgotten. A sorry forgetfulness.

This lesson now being so poignantly impressed anew will cause many to appreciate the supreme need of saving.

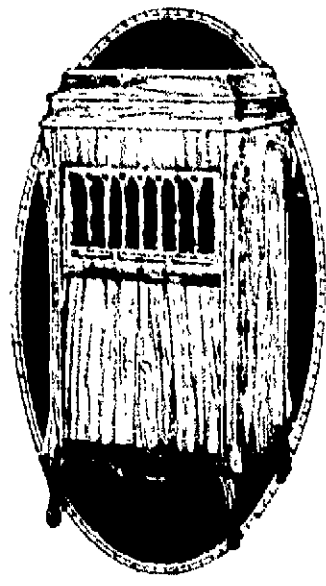

This friendly bank is expanding its facilities better to care for the new accounts being daily received.

BELLEFONTAINE FALLS EASY PREY TO LOCALS

Though Score of Game Might Not Indicate It.

VISITORS FAIL TO REACH FIRST IN THE THIRD

Both Sides Garner Eight Hits Apiece—Four to Two Is Score.

(By WILLIAM J. KADIS.)

Marion Daily Stars made their debut in the first game of the season, played at Bellefontaine Falls, Ohio, Sunday afternoon, by a score of four to two. Only once was the game in the lead in danger for the locals. Bellefontaine was held scoreless in the first inning and Marion marked up one tally in its half of that frame. Bellefontaine tied the score in the second with two hits and a wild throw by Conroy and made Marion's half count for nothing by retiring Riddle at first and, after Lawson ran to first on a bunt by Barnhart, Conroy hit into a double play.

In the third, Bellefontaine found it impossible to even get to first in the beginning of the third inning, none of the visiting batters being able to connect safely. Barnhart was an easy out, Lawson to Uhl, and Geller fanned the next two men up.

Marion took the lead in its half of the fourth frame and had no trouble in keeping in the lead for the remainder of the contest. Bellefontaine's other tally was marked up in the eighth frame. Geller punted this walk rally with a strike-out and the sending in of two pinch hitters in the ninth proved useless for the visitors.

At his best, While Houston and Geller each allowed eight hits, Marion's diminutive southpaw was at his best and had much the better of the argument. He fanned eight batters and proved invulnerable in the punches. Houston got four strikeouts to his credit, but his teammates were slow in fielding the ball.

Bellefontaine scored its second run in the eighth after one man was out on Barnhart's hit and a triple by Joe Blackwood. Geller pulled out by fanning Treon and making James Blackwood fly out to Jackman.

Marion's first tally came in the first inning when Weller drew a base on balls, went to second on Lattimore's sacrifice, took third when Uhl was put out at first and scored on Jackman's triple to center. Kruse lost the ball in the sun, recovered it and the sphere was relayed through second to the plate, where Jackman was put out trying to stretch the hit into a home run. Hits by Uhl, Jackman and Riddle accounted for the second run, scored in the fourth.

In the fifth, O'Donnell got on when Treon fumbled his fly, went to second on Geller's sacrifice and scored on Lattimore's double to left center. Hits by Jackman and Conroy brought in the last run in the sixth.

SHOVELS WIN FROM POLLAKS SATURDAY

By Score of Six to Three—New Pitcher.

Hawkins, a new man acquired by the Shovel team, pitched his team to victory over the Pollak-Power team. In the Industrial league, Saturday afternoon the Shovels winning by a score of six to three. Both teams played in the field, but the few errors proved costly, while the hitting was light.

Hawkins got away to a bad start and the Pollak-Power team registered three runs in the opening session before the Shovel pitcher struck his stride. After this frame Hawkins pitched almost airtight ball and during the contest fanned fifteen batters, while but three hits were made off him and he walked two batters, these helping in the scoring.

Huntman started the mound duties for the Pollak-Power team and his downfall came in the second inning when the Shovels bunched hits with passes and errors and before the side was retired they sent five runners over the rubber. Disbennett succeeded Huntman and during the six innings he worked he allowed but two hits and one run.

SILK MILLS LOSE TO COMMERCIAL-HUBERS

By Close Score of Eight to Seven, Saturday.

The Commercial-Hubers' baseball team continued its winning streak in the industrial league by defeating the Silk Mills team, Saturday afternoon, by a score of eight to seven. The Silk Mills led up to the seventh inning by a count of five to three. In the seventh Anderson hit a homer with one on and Roseberry slammed out a three-sacker with the bases filled, and won the game.

The Silk Mills started a rally in the eighth, but fell one short of tying the score. Both teams played hard and the game was a battle from start to finish. The hitting of Warrick and Anderson, the fielding of Parr and Lattimore and the pitching of Roseberry in the pinches, were features of the game.
